HEINZ KINIGADNER
 2times Motocross-World Champion

Heinz Kinigadner and KTM, Heinz Kinigadner and Red Bull – both are almost a perfect match. The two-time motocross world champion, winner of the Rallye of the Pharaohs and the Paris-Moscow-Beijing Rallye, still clearly remembers his first moped – a KTM Comet Cross, his eight domestic championship titles, the Spanish Enduro championship title, his great rallye successes and, of course, his two world championship titles with KTM. But he also remembers the difficult times after the failure of KTM and the new start with his friend, Stefan Pierer and team. They did it! KTM has now risen to become the no.1 off-road brand world-wide. And Heinz clearly remembers how he was chosen to be the first motorbike rider to join the Red Bull family. "The collaboration with Red Bull has given me wings too," says Heinz Kinigadner today. Red Bull boss, Dietrich Mateschitz, shares a passion for motorcycling and this has led to a long friendship. Together they founded the "Wings for Life" foundation, which has as its aim the discovery of a cure for spinal cord injury. For Kini – as his friends call him – motorbike riding has added a lot to his life, but it has also taken a lot. His brother Hans had an accident in 1984 and his son Hannes came off his bike in 2003. Both received a spinal column injury and are paraplegic. "My dream and main aim in life with "Wings for Life" is to make spinal cord injury curable," says Heinz Kinigadner. So a large part of the profits from the KINI Red Bull collection is going to the Wings for Life foundation. This catalogue showcases the latest KINI Red Bull collection - Lifestyle for Athletes! Knowing full well what matters to individual athletes, the KINI Red Bull collection was launched purely as functional clothing and KINI Red Bull is now a highly-desirable lifestyle brand.
